BIG FARES HERE AND AT BOSTON

Fresh and Salt Receipts Aggregate 4000 Barrels.

Several fine fares of mackerel have arrived since last report and more are expected.

Sch. Norumbega, Capt. John McKinnon, came in Thursday afternoon with the largest fare of the season, 400 barrels of salt mackerel and 11,000 fresh mackerel in count. The fresh ones sold to the Gloucester Fresh Fish Co. at 8 and 5 cents each for large and small, while the salt ones sold to the Gloucester Mackerel Co. This trip will put Capt. McKinnon well up in the front rank among the season's leaders.

Sch. Indiana, Capt. Sewall Smith, came in Thursday evening with 350 barrels of salt mackerel and 100 barrels of fresh mackerel.

This morning sch. Dauntless, Capt. Daniel Doran, came in with 360 barrels of salt mackerel, sch. J. E. Garland, Capt. Charles Peart, with 200 barrels, and sch. Pinta, Capt. Albert Rose, with 325 barrels, all these trips being salt mackerel. The Helen Miller Gould came down from Boston with 158 barrels of salt mackerel which sold to John Pew & Son.

The sch. Lottie G. Merchant, Capt. Christopher Carrigan, came in about 3 o'clock with 345 barrels of salt mackerel, and the salt receipts then aggregated 2150 barrels, the largest of the season.

The vessels got their fish on Tuesday. The schools were from 30 to 60 miles southeast of No Man's Land and a big fleet of seiners, fully 60 sail, if not more, were on them and a good day's fishing was secured.

The fare of sch. Lottie G. Merchant sold to Wm. H. Jordan and that of sch. J. E. Garland to the Gloucester Mackerel Co.

At Boston today are fares which are the largest of the season. These are, sch. Henry M. Stanley, Capt. Charles Maguire, has 400 barrels of salt mackerel and 150 barrels of fresh mackerel. Sch. Olga, Capt. John Hickey, has 300 barrels salt mackerel and 250 barrels fresh mackerel. These, together with sch. Norumbega's trip at this port, and sch. Helen Miller Gould fare are the largest mackerel fares landed this season.

Sch. Henry W. Longfellow, Capt. Frank Carroll, is also at Boston to-day with 150 barrels of fresh mackerel and 260 barrels of salt mackerel.

Sch. Marguerite Haskins, Capt. Benj. Spurling, arrived there Thursday afternoon with 250 barrels of fresh mackerel and 100 barrels of salt mackerel. All four of these vessels belong to this port.

Fresh mackerel there to-day brought eight cents each for large and four cents for mediums, while at this port, the Gloucester Fresh Fish Co. paid eight cents each for large and five cents for mediums.

The receipts of salt mackerel at this port and Boston to-day aggregate 3210 barrels.

The fresh mackerel of sch. Indiana was sold to the Gloucester Fresh Fish Company at eight cents each for large and five cents for mediums.

The salt mackerel of sch. Norumbega were sold to the Gloucester Mackerel Co. for a lump sum.

The salt mackerel of sch. Marguerite Haskins were sold to William H. Jordan. Taking away the trips which were practically sold and only awaiting a price to be made, there were five fares actually on the market this morning, those of schs. Pinta, Indiana, Olga, Henry W. Longfellow and Dauntless. The first bids were $7 per barrel, all the buyers being on hand early. From this, offers rose to $7.50 per barrel.

At 11.30 these bids had not been increased and the fares of schs. Olga and Pinta sold to William H. Jordan at $7.50 per barrel.

The fares of the schs. Pinta, Olga and Lottie G. Merchant were bought by W. H. Jordan, the price being $7.50 per barrel.

Sch. Leander F. Gould is at Newport to-day with 150 barrels of fresh mackerel.

Fishermen at Louisburg have made good catches of mackerel this spring. Price is low at present and men will hold fish for some time yet.

Steam Trawler Will Not Give Up.

The steam trawler Magnific arrived at St. John's on June 12, coming from the wreck. She has had an unsuccessful voyage as far as fishing was concerned and only secured about 50 qtls. All of the various banks were tried, but there seemed to be a scarcity of cod, and in the day time none at all. What little was secured was taken at night. There was but one large halibut brought up, but any quantity of flat fish, in fact similar fish in every way to that raised by the nets while on her trial trip off the port. The owners are not discouraged at the first venture, but purpose sending her out again very shortly, as Capt. Jackman is of the opinion that there was no fish on the banks just at this time.
